The Masters of Applied Philosophy and Ethics is organizing a symposium on the Philosophy of Leonardo Polo. Professor Polo (1926-2013) is a renowned Spanish philosopher best known for his philosophical method called the abandonment of the mental limit and for the profound philosophical implications and results of the application of this method.

Prof Christine Gichure, Dr (Rev) Alphonse Diaz and John Branya, who attended his classes will explain the contributions that Professor Polo has made to philosophy and the incidence his contributions may have in education, ethics and anthropology.

Leonardo Polo was a jurist, who became a professor in philosophy and who read philosophy extensively, he read his first philosophy book at the age of 14. At the age of 24, he had a discovery that he thought resolves the impasse of modern and contemporary philosophy.

He asserted that, Modern Philosophy though discovering the importance of "the subject" and "freedom", was incapable of integrating these discoveries within the perennial philosophy. This happened because they continue using the Greek notions of matter and form, substance and accident. These concepts are only applicable in Cosmology and Metaphysics but not with Anthropology because the person is beyond its faculties, and therefore beyond the intelligence and the will.

The symposium will take place on Friday March 22, 2013 from 2.30pm in Zumaridi Lecture room of the Strathmore Law School.

All those interested in Philosophy, Ethics or Anthropology are welcome.
